The WAVE Network

The WAVE Network was established in 1994 as a network of women's NGOs and specialist women's support services (women's shelters, women's centers, intervention centers, helplines and other services). The main objective of WAVE is to work towards the elimination of all forms of discrimination and violence against women and their children, and to promote the right of women and girls to live free from violence in both the public and the private sphere, and to promote the human rights of women and girls.

The WAVE office serves as a linchpin for the whole network of WAVE.

The WAVE Network is comprised of 160 Members (Aug. 2021), located throughout 46 European countries. Through these Members, together with the extensive WAVE online database, the network reaches out to more than 4,000 women's organizations across Europe. The members of WAVE include women's organizations, women's specialist support services, individuals and networks working to end violence against women and their children. Additionally, honorary membership can be granted. Prof. Dr. Carol Hagemann-White is the first honorary member of WAVE.

How to become a WAVE Member.

If you are interested in becoming a WAVE member, please contact our office: office@wave-network.org

Benefits of being a WAVE Member.

- ▶ Access to the WAVE office database and publications: www.wave-network.org
- ▶ Up to date information through the WAVE newsletter
- ▶ Exchange with other organizations and experts within the same field in Europe
- ▶ Attending different WAVE events such as WAVE annual conferences, trainings and seminars
- ▶ Being part of an international body with a voice in Europe.

The WAVE Database is publicly available on the WAVE website and contains data of about 4,000 organizations. The Database helps survivors and practitioners to find comprehensive information on available women's support services on their own, and in other European countries, through the website rubric 'Get Help'. www.wave-network.org

WAVE Information Centre

The WAVE Information Centre provides direct support to persons seeking information and help, to survivors as well as to other persons. Violence against women and their children are not crimes that stop at borders. Migration and the growing mobility of people in European countries have increased the number of cases of violence against women and domestic violence with cross-border dimensions.

The WAVE Information Center also provides information to persons from different organizations and institutions seeking contacts to organizations in other countries for cross-country cooperation and exchange. Additionally, the Center answers requests from governments, academics, the media and from the general public.

Opening hours: Monday–Thursday: 9:00 to 17:00,
Friday: 9:00 to 15:00 (CEST)

Women's Helplines in 45 European countries

The following is a table of national women's helplines available in 45 European countries. When there is no national helpline, a regional or general helpline is listed (these countries are marked with a *). National women's helplines are among the most vital services for women survivors of violence, as they are one of the first places women can turn to receive immediate counselling and advice. It is important to note that some of the following phone numbers cannot be called from abroad, as they are strictly national helplines and can only be used within the country. In such instances, we invite you to get in touch directly with the WAVE Members in relevant countries.
